THE PROMISE THAT CHANGES EVERYTHING

with Dr. David Jeremiah

Why do we need to believe in the promise of Heaven now more than ever?

DJ: We always need something to look forward to in life, don't we? For those who love Jesus, Heaven is our greatest goal and surest outlook. Only when our minds are set on "things above" can we properly deal with "things below." Heaven is the home we've never visited, the inheritance coming to us, and the consummation of our relationship with Christ. It's closer than we know. Whatever your day looks like today, a better one is on the way, heading toward you at the speed of glory. Jesus is preparing a place for you, a land of many mansions with multitudes of angels and millions of friends.

For those who feel overwhelmed by what's happening in the world, how can the promise of Heaven offer perspective today?

DJ: We all look around and try to find meaning in the things we experience every day, but let's be honest: things are not always so hot. No, we have a hunger in our hearts because God placed eternity in our hearts, and until Heaven is a part of our lives we will never be at home. We were not created to be satisfied with this world. Heaven is built into our system, and when we spend time with Jesus and learn about our Heavenly home, He will change our perspective.

Many people—even believers—struggle with the fear of death. What has God shown you about how to face that fear with confidence?

DJ: The fear of death is a part of life. I want to live as long as I can. I'm not anxious to die. I don't know anyone who wants to die. But if you are a Christian and you know and believe the Word of God, you will have a healthy fear of death. There is a joy of life in my spirit and a desire to keep living in my heart. I think it's right to say we aren't afraid of death, but we don't want to die. God has put within us the hope of life, and we want to live long and enjoy the things God has given us. We should enjoy every day of life but know that God has a plan for what happens next. And when we graduate, we will be so excited. In the meantime, we can have a healthy fear.

What does the Bible really say about what Heaven will be like?

DJ: Heaven is a precious place, and we should anticipate it to the utmost. Amid anxiety, it consoles us. In sickness, it provides an anchor of hope. In poverty, it reminds us of our coming wealth. We find descriptions of Heaven from Genesis to Revelation. It is a real place, and God has described it for us in incredible detail in the Bible. There we're told of a celestial city with gates of pearl, streets of gold, and mansions for each resident. We catch a glimpse of our eternal home where there is no more pain, suffering, sorrow, or death. A world without fear, war, crime, or hate—a place where there will be no more sad goodbyes.

In I Corinthians 2:9, Paul wrote, "Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, nor have entered into the heart of man the things which God has prepared for those who love Him."

In your study of Heaven, what's one thing that surprised you the most?

DJ: I don't think you can ever know as much as you'd like to know about Heaven. One thing I learned writing this book was how much I didn't know about Heaven. I know a lot, but the Bible says, "the secret things belong to the Lord" (Deut. 29:29), and some of the things we want to know we can't know because they have not been revealed.

You say Heaven is not just a destination, but a motivation. How should our hope of eternity shape the way we live right now?

DJ: If you know where you are going, what you are heading towards, and the goal in your heart, then it gives you energy. When you know what God has prepared for those who love Him it makes you want to live every day to honor Him and be a good representative for Him. Personally, my goal has always been to go to Heaven and take as many people with me as I can.

What is a key biblical promise about Heaven that every believer should hold onto in difficult times?

DJ: This life is just a brief preparation. Heaven is the beginning of true life. Believing in Heaven is believing in a person (Jesus), a place (the eternal home He has created for us), and a promise (that if we put our trust in Him, He will take us there to be with Him). John 14 tells us He has prepared a place for us and Psalm 16 tells us that "in the presence of God is the fullness of joy and pleasures forevermore." God created everything that is exciting in this world, and we will experience that in His presence for eternity.

What would you say to younger generations who feel like Heaven is a far-off idea that doesn't matter much today?

DJ: Heaven may seem like it's far, far away, but it isn't a distant reality. For the child of God, Heaven is only a heartbeat away. Without Heaven, we are without hope. If you've accepted God's invitation and made your reservation for Heaven, you have much to live for. Wherever we go in the world—whatever blessings or burdens befall our lives—Heaven is our sure and certain hope, a place prepared for us, a city whose Builder and Maker is God. What a change for us when we accept the biblical reality of Heaven! It's a revelation of joy. It's the hope that anchors the soul. Our earthly life is a preparation for our Heavenly life. We must live today like we will live in eternity. Earth is a dress rehearsal for Heaven. Our Lord Jesus Christ has opened the gates and prepared the way, and He beckons us to follow Him. Not tomorrow or in the distant future. Today.

For the child of God,
Heaven is only a heartbeat away.

THE PROMISE of HEAVEN

Have you ever wondered what Heaven will really be like? What will we do there? Who will we see? And most importantly: what does it all mean for us today? In his uplifting new book The Promise of Heaven, beloved Bible teacher and Daystar programmer Dr. David Jeremiah brings clarity and biblical truth to these eternal questions.

This book offers a thoughtful look at what Scripture says about Heaven and invites readers to reflect on the eternal promises of God. Dr. Jeremiah presents Heaven as a real and meaningful part of our faith journey, a place filled with joy, peace, and beauty as described in the Bible. Through his clear teaching and pastoral insight, he helps bring the topic of eternity into everyday conversation, encouraging readers to approach it with a sense of hope and assurance.

In The Promise of Heaven, you'll gain a renewed sense of joy and confidence as you discover what the Bible reveals about your future. You'll be inspired by the hope of seeing loved ones again, encouraged by the truth of God's eternal presence, and equipped to live each day with purpose and peace. This powerful resource is perfect for anyone walking through grief, wrestling with questions about eternity, or simply longing for a deeper understanding of God's promises.

This month only, when you make a special donation to Daystar, we will send you a copy of The Promise of Heaven as our way of saying thank you. Your generous support helps Daystar continue spreading the Gospel around the world, pointing people to the ultimate hope we have in Christ.

Fueling the Mission TOGETHER!

As we come to the close of another incredible year, we can't help but look back in awe at what God has done through you.

From reaching new nations and broadcasting the Gospel in more languages than ever before, to building studios in Israel and supporting projects that bring hope to hurting families, your generosity has made it all possible. Every prayer, every partnership, every gift is part of the story God is writing through Daystar.

When you give, you're not just supporting a network—you're fueling a mission. Every moment someone turns on Daystar and finds peace in the middle of the night... every time a person somewhere in the world hears about Jesus for the first time... you're right there with them.

And as this year draws to a close, we invite you to stand with us once again, to sow into what God is doing and help carry His Word even farther in the year ahead. Your year-end gift makes an eternal difference, and when received by December 31, it will also count toward this year's charitable giving record.

Together, we're building something eternal. Something that can't be shaken by politics, economies, or the changing world around us because it's built on faith.

So as you pray about your year-end gift, remember this: you're not giving to a program or a channel. You're giving to see lives transformed, hearts healed, and the Gospel of Jesus proclaimed to the nations.

Thank you for being part of this mission. Let's finish the year strong and step into the next with faith, unity, and purpose—fueling the mission together.

A letter from our President

JONI LAMB

Dear Partner,

One of my favorite parts of the Christmas season is the joy that fills the air. Everywhere you look, there’s a sense of wonder and warmth—and that joy all points back to Jesus. The angel’s announcement still rings true today: “I bring you good news of great joy that will be for all the people” (Luke 2:10).

No matter what this year has held, the birth of our Savior reminds us that joy isn’t dependent on circumstances—it comes from knowing Him. True joy flows from the presence of Jesus, and when we keep our hearts centered on Him, it becomes our strength in every season. So let’s carry that same joy into our homes, our families, and our world this Christmas. You never know who might find hope just because they saw His light shining through you!

And speaking of joy, I’m so excited to share some wonderful Network News! Daystar Television Network has launched on MAXtv in Croatia, Channel 668, reaching 400,000 subscribers through Hrvatski Telekom! Every new platform means more people hearing the message of Jesus, and that’s something to celebrate this Christmas season.

Also, be sure to catch my dear friend Carla Shellis in a very special holiday series called “A Carla Shellis Christmas,” airing Tuesdays at 3:30pm EST now through December 23. It’s such a fun, heartwarming show where Carla shares cooking and hosting tips, along with practical and emotional etiquette for the holidays. Through laughter, love, and meaningful life lessons, she helps women bring peace, purpose, and joy to their homes—I know you’ll love it as much as I do!

As we celebrate the birth of Jesus and close out another wonderful year together, I want to wish you and your family a very Merry Christmas and a blessed New Year. May your home be filled with joy, your heart be at peace, and your days overflow with the love of Christ.

Blessings,

Joni Lamb
